Deschanel, complying with the request of the others who received votes not to include them in the minutes. M. Pourgeois made an ad-dress or congratulation to the presi-cent-cleut, pledging him the support of France.

Compliments Clemenceau.

M. Deschanel replied:

"The national assembly in calling to the presidency of the republic the presidency of the chamber of deputies wished to mark its profound attachment for those parliamentary institutions which in the greatest drama of history showed egain their suppleness and their strength. As a faithful guarsian of the law, I will seek to apply the constitution in letter and in spirit to solidify and perfect, in close accord with the nations representatives of these free institutions.

"I sainte my illustrious predecessors, among them M. Poincare, who in the formidable war represented France woith diginity and nobility. I sainte also the great Franchman who contributed so much to the victory by gathering together all the national energies through a magnificent effort. I express the wish that the houses of parliament will conserve as services he has represed the country." Compliments Clemenceau,
